

Sample reviews from dataset

★★★★★ Samsung Galaxy S24 5-star
"Amazing camera quality and battery lasts all day. Fast processor, smooth experience overall."

☆☆☆☆☆ Realme C55 1-star
"Battery drains within 3 hours. Constantly lags and overheats. Very disappointing purchase."

★★★★☆ Xiaomi Redmi Note 13 3-star
"Camera is decent but software has bugs. Good for price but not flagship quality."

★★★★☆ OnePlus 12 4-star
"Great display and fast charging. Camera could be better but overall solid phone."

☆☆☆☆☆ Motorola G84 2-star
"Not worth the money. Build quality is poor and camera is mediocre at best. Would not buy."

Dataset at a glance

Rows: 50,000+ reviews
Columns: ~25 features
Format: CSV (structured tabular)

Dataset features (~25 columns)

Text features

review_text review_title verified_purchase helpful_votes

Spec features

brand ram_gb battery_mah camera_mp storage_gb display_inches processor_type os_version

Target label: star_rating (1–5 classes)

Class distribution (50,000+ reviews)

Imbalanced — class weighting applied during training

Brand coverage in dataset

Samsung Apple Xiaomi OnePlus Realme Motorola Vivo Oppo Nothing + 15 others

Fig. 1. Mobile Reviews: Sentiment and Specification Dataset (2025 Edition) [14].

Left: five sample reviews with their star-rating ground truth labels. Right: feature schema (~25 columns combining text and hardware specifications), class distribution, and brand coverage across 50,000+ entries.